

Academic Warning

An early warning is issued during the fourth week of the semester for any student performing below the grade of C.

Midterm grades are issued for students performing below the grade of C during the 7th week of the semester. Any undergraduate student whose GPA falls below 2.0 for any semester will receive a letter of warning from the Dean of the College or School in which the student's academic program is housed.