

Student Athlete Leadership Academy (SALA)

The purpose of the Student Athlete Leadership Academy (SALA) is to equip young men with vital life skills that will promote positive academic performance and foster pro-social behaviors. SALA is designed to engage participants in purposeful exploration of the anatomy of the student athlete, college readiness, and athletic conditioning. Special features of SALA include SAT/ACT preparation, a weekly field trip, and evening summer workout sessions. SALA supports the development of participants' lives, their education, and their future aspirations.

College Prep YOUiversity

College Prep YOUiversity is where students will gain experience in navigating the gamut of college admissions – from the search for the right college to the application process to college visits. Key components of the program include...

- Admissions Roundtable: Three to five admissions representatives from colleges / universities (NCCU, UNC, Peace, ECU, NCSU, etc)
- First-Year Student Panel: Three to five rising college freshmen and sophomores will answer questions about the college admissions process and surviving year one of college.
- College Search & College Application: Small-group intensives on finding a best-fit college and positioning / packaging yourself for college applications.
- SAT / ACT PREP: Technology-enhanced delivery that provides real-time assessment of students strengths / weaknesses. Overview of both tests that helps students determine which test is best suited for their admissions process. Strategies that help students improve their scores.
- Life Skills for College & Beyond: Time-management, study skills, financial literacy and responsibility.
- College Application Essay: Deciding what to write and how to write it in a way that makes the student stand out.
- Parents' Preparation Session: Helping parents understand the basics about college admissions, hear about what the program has covered, and get answers to their questions.
