DESCRIPTION OVERVIEW

Primary Purpose of the Unit:

The Office of New Student Services is housed in the Division of Student Affairs. The University is committed to the equality of educational opportunity and does not discriminate against applicants based on race, color, national origin, religion, gender, age or disability. Moreover, its doors are open to people of all races and it actively seeks to promote racial integration by recruiting and enrolling a larger number of white students, as well as other ethnic minorities.

Primary Purpose of the Department:

New Student Services exist to provide education, leadership, and professional development in the areas of college student orientation, transition and retention. The Office of New Student Services diligently works to connect the diverse range of undergraduates to the University so all students achieve academic excellence and find opportunities for intellectual exploration and discovery. New Student Services serves as the hub for the following new student events: New Student Orientation, Transitional Programs and Parent/Family Programs.

The primary purpose of New Student Services is to assist new students in making a successful academic and social transition into the university community. It is intended to support students in understanding the nature of the university, the educational opportunities available to them, and the values and functions of the university.

New Student Services not only fosters new students through various academic, cultural and social programs and activities within the department, but we also collaborate with faculty, staff, alumni, student services, as well as community colleges to establish a sound base of knowledge and resources for our students. It is our goal to provide programs and resources that will encourage intellectual curiosity, cultural exploration, and informal interactions with new students and parents.
