NCCU offers a vibrant, full university experience. Students can participate in more than 100 student run organizations ranging from National Pan-Hellenic sororities and fraternities to political and social action groups. Our university activities include the esteemed NCCU Honda Campus All-Stars Challenge and Model UN teams. There is no lack of creativity at NCCU, including the award-winning NCCU Jazz Ensemble, Campus Echo Newspaper, WNCU, the campus NPR and jazz radio station and the NCCU Theatre Department productions.

The Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Ally (LGBTA) Resource Center at North Carolina Central University serves as a vital link where LGBTQIA+ individuals can find a sense of community and everyone can learn about LGBTQIA+ identities and culture. Our campus community provides support services, educational programming, advocacy, as well as opportunities for leadership and professional development.

North Carolina Central University was the first HBCU in the state to establish a LGBTA Center and the second in the nation. The NCCU LGBTA Resource Center first opened its doors on April 9, 2013.

The campus also boasts more than 11 residence halls, a Campus Recreation and Wellness Center complete with racquetball courts and a swimming pool, over five dining locations spread throughout campus, and countless opportunities for students to display Eagle Excellence in leadership.
More than a degree! At North Carolina Central University, students have the opportunity for immersion in transformative experiences, while completing the community engagement academic graduation requirement. Undergraduate students engage in 15 hours of service each semester. In 2017-2018, students invested more than 211,000 hours in local, regional, national and global communities. Additionally, over 200 graduates have been awarded the Student Service Impact Award since its inception. Engagement in the community will help you toward an “on-time” graduation or simply provide something amazing to support your resume.

Financial aid is available in the form of scholarships, grants, loans and work-study. Most federal and state funded financial aid programs are awarded on the basis of proven financial need. The Office of Scholarships and Student Aid (OSSA) ensures that funds are awarded in a consistent and equitable manner. For each student who desires financial assistance, a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) must be completed online at https://fafsa.gov beginning on October 1. Students must reapply each academic year for financial aid. Applicants should make sure the correct award year is selected and the school code of 002950 is listed in section six. NCCU does not certify private loans.

Additional financial aid information is available at www.nccu.edu/ssa.
