A Guide to NCCU’s Newest Themed Living Program
(Last Updated March 23rd, 2017)
What is a theme community?

- A theme program is a social identity based residential community where residents live in a designated area in order to build community and learn more about the social identity connected to the theme program.

- Kaleidoscope focuses on issues related to Gender, Sexual, and Relationship Minoritized individuals (GSRM), also labeled LGBTQA. Students living in this community may be members of the LGBTQA community; however, that is not a requirement.
What is required of me in a theme community?

• Complete an application and be accepted into the theme community
• Attend the Theme Program Retreat the week residence halls open in the Fall and Spring.
• Commit to attending programmatic aspects of the community:
  • Bi-weekly (every other week) community meetings
  • Theme Program Service Project
  • Barrier Breaker Activities
  • Critical Dialogues Across Difference (CDAD)
  • Reflective exercises
• Abide by the NCCU Code of Conduct and Community Agreement
• Live in the designated community.
• Students may be required to move out of the theme program community if they do not participate in required events, violate the Community Agreement, or decide they do not want to live in the designated community space.
Where will I live?

- For the 2017-2018 Academic Year, the Kaleidoscope Theme Program will be located on the 3rd floor of Ruffin Hall
- Student in romantic partnerships will not be permitted to live in the same suite.
- Suites will be gender inclusive, meaning that cis-men, cis-women, trans individuals, and gender non-conforming students may all live within the same suite.

Who can apply? How many will be accepted?

- Anyone can apply! Preference will be given to those who thoughtfully complete their application essays, show a demonstrable interest in issues related to GSRM/LGBTQA individuals, and are open to learning more.
- Only continuing NCCU students may apply. Incoming first year students and transfers are not eligible.
- This year, only 14 individuals will be selected for the theme program
