

Chancellor's Awards

Dear NCCU Family,

WOW! You continue to amaze me with your exceptional gifts of involvement, innovation, and impact! Your abounding successes have yielded a noteworthy harvest for the 2018-2019 academic year. It is indeed my esteemed pleasure to recognize and honor outstanding faculty and staff, and individual and team contributions, as we host the 2019 Chancellor's Awards!

The Chancellor's Awards are among the highest honors bestowed upon faculty and staff by the Chancellor. They embody outstanding employee engagement and significant employee contributions that champion the University's mission and goals. With five categories of awards, we are able to recognize exceptional efforts, through professional performance, that results in extraordinary service through the:

- Chancellor's Award for Effective Communication
- Chancellor's Award for Innovation
- Chancellor's Award for Research
- Chancellor's Award for Student Service
- Chancellor's Award for University Service

The 2019 program deadline for nominations is Friday, May 31, 2019. With exuberance, I look forward to presenting the award winners during University Conference, August 13, 2019. Therefore, I ask that you take time to review the award details via the hyperlinked listing above, as well as the Chancellor's Awards Portfolio and Chancellor's Awards FAQ's, then submit your nominations! Your Office of Human Resources – HR Benefits and Services program contact is Keesha Judd keesha.judd@nccu.edu, ext. 6253.

You are encouraged and invited to engage in this awesome opportunity to honor your colleagues, or yourself (yes, self-nominations are allowed), for the prestigious NC Central Chancellor's Awards!

In Truth and Service,

Johnson O. Akinleye

Johnson O. Akinleye, Ph.D.
Chancellor