GLOBAL EDUCATION PLAN DRAFT NORTH CAROLINA CENTRAL UNIVERSITY

The mission of North Carolina Central University (NCCU) is to prepare students academically and professionally to become leaders prepared to advance the consciousness of social responsibility in a diverse, global society. It is imperative in an increasingly interconnected world for students to become globally engaged and conscious through diverse global learning experiences. Participation in global learning experiences is a university priority established in objective 5.2 of the NCCU Strategic Plan, and it is also aligned with UNC Tomorrow Goals 4.1.1 and 4.1.3 focusing on global education and collaboration.

Global learning prepares students to be effective leaders and problem solvers in a world where societies, cultures, economies, and environments are inextricably interlinked. Global learning illuminates diverse values, helping students to develop an understanding and appreciation of different cultural perspectives and find common ground by creating cultural bridges. Further, global learning inspires students to experience a transformation of social consciousness beyond national consciousness, becoming responsible global citizens who understand cultural diversity as an important context in which people can address issues common to humanity.

The NCCU Global Education Plan is aimed at strengthening global competence at North Carolina Central University through the promotion of multicultural and international learning and engagement. Achieving global competence at NCCU will be accomplished through a focus on Academic Curriculum, Study Abroad, Institutional Partnerships, Extracurricular Activities, and International Recruitment. Through an interdisciplinary and experiential approach to global education, NCCU will create opportunities for students to immerse themselves in diverse systems, values, and experiences as a community of global citizens and scholars, while further deepening a richer understanding of their own cultural heritage. Students graduating from NCCU will be globally competent leaders who demonstrate specific competencies in the following areas: 1) Students will recognize diverse cultural perspectives and the role of culture in identity formation and human understanding; 2) Students will be able to communicate and interact across diverse cultures; and 3) Students will be able to identify and engage global events, processes, trends, and issues. The implementation of this Global Education Plan will be assessed by the Office of the Provost in the spring of 2015, and appropriate adjustments in strategies and implementation will be made accordingly.
